Objective of activity / visit: Explore the local marketplace	Outcome of the activity / visit: Explored marketplace

Major points of the day:

The village itself is quite small. The main square, if you can call it that is just a dusty road with a handful of shops. I explored them all this afternoon.

There's a general store, a vegetable stall, a newspaper stand and surprisingly a bank branch and finally a post office.

Despite its simplicity, there's a certain charm to this place. The shopkeepers greeted me warmly. Talked to the vegetable seller learnt about the local harvest. The mountains, shrouded in hazy blue, rise majestically in the distance, a constant reminder of beauty that surrounds me.

Tomorrow, I plan to venture a little further out and explore the trail. This is going to be a different kind of adventure and I can't wait to see what the Garhwal Himalayas have in store for me.
